VIERA AND CURRIE BOX TEN PEPPER ROUNDS TO DRAW

By NICK FLATLEY.

ANOTHER of those hectic evenings at the Commercial A. C. ended without the crowd bulging out the walls, or smothering, or falling down the stairs, or anything like that. Four batties were pulled off and the rest meaning—meaning the game—left, declaring that the club always furnished plenty of scrapping.

The weekly all-star show, in other words, went along without a hitch. There was one knockout, two decisive misses and a draw. And what more could anyone want? That draw was the big feature of the affair. Young Viera and Joe Currie, rivals of old, were the participants. They went along through ten rounds swapping punches more frequently than the trolleys come off on the night cars.

They hit each other, severally and separately, with everything they had, including their draft cards, and when the referee recovered from his dizziness, he called it a draw. He couldn't have done anything else.

In the other fights Dan McCormick had the better of Johnny Greer, much to the surprise of everybody, including especially Johnny. Johnny's best bet was McCoy, who suited for Tony Marenco, and Patrick Flynn flattened Johnny Lynch in his first chapter of what was supposed to be a six-rounder.

The big surprise of the program was, of course, the McCormick victory, and now it looks as if Dan will be able to ride him into glory. One more triumph and he will be in line with the Charley Parkers and the rest of the local heroes. Of such stuff are heroes made, as Fred Stone declared when he tried for the first time his trick toe shuffling.

Fans Hot Up About Parker-McCabe Battle.

THURSDAY is more than a little interested in the Parker-McCabe battle, which will be the high light of the Central Club show Monday night. Battening Charley has gone along so far without being stopped that his particular friends now believe him untouchable. But the McCabe adherents are inclined to believe otherwise. There is the Navy Heavyweight, himself proud. He boxed a lot of heavyweights and midweights, and emerged with his countenance and reputation just as good as ever. He was forced to do some regular training and has made himself a better battler. Howard started off like one of the best until properly come his way. Then he was hit by a counter punch. Now he has cut his own side the follow of teeth, all this is a record. He is now in the world, and is ready to fight against a youth who promises well, but he has posted his fortune on a card or so in the service should reach him not in that unless he was pretty confident of success.

Monday's quarrel will result in as much more than a draw, but as any battle between since Joseph and Sander fought. The previous promise, which being as follows: Frankie Walsh and Mike Walsh, six rounds; Willie Roberts and Bill Bruno, eight rounds; Freddie Williams and Willie Jones, eight rounds.

Braves Sign Up Two More Heroes.

TWO more of the Brave regiments have been taken into the fold. The Brave are reading or releasing their service players. The Brave are now Kelly and Ray Powell. Jones and Ray went into the navy, right in the thick of last year. According to some rules they thereby earned demerit. But not in the scheme of Brave things. Jones and Ray have been discharged from the navy, but they have not been out of footloose and too free on the well known baseball world. They have been signed up, as all service athletes should be, and will be, as soon as the magazine

DAVE CALDWELL OUT TO GET CARLEY CUP

Copyright, 1918, by International Feature Service, Inc.

Boston has its first big indoor athletic meet of the Winter season tonight. It's the Army vs. Navy, with the East Army on the scene; starting time 8:30 o'clock.

Dave Caldwell, B. A. star, owner of two legs on the Curley 1,000 yards trophy, is out to gain permanent possession of the rich prize. He's in good form, he claims, and confident he will succeed in disposing of the feet field ahead to oppose him.

Gordon Nightingale of New Hampshire, winner of the Junior A. A. U. open-country championship in 1917, is the best man entered against Caldwell. Calvin Hawdon, Tech Fresh, Cecil Lewis and Jack Connolly, two of the B. A. A. box distance men, J. Harrison and Harry Faine are five other good ones in the race.

Andy Kelly, holder of the world's 300-yard indoor record, is entered in the open and closed sprints, as well as the "300." In the closed sprint he's down to meet Pat French, another other side performer.

Mike Dwyer is on scratch in the one-mile run, with Connolly on the board mark. Nightingale has been allotted fifteen yards.

The service boys will have a recent track three-legged race, catapault race and charity race.

Three-legged race, catapault race and charity race. The school team is to have the honor of competing against the Baltimore Polytechnic school at the B. A. A. game March 3. Harvard will not address the B. A. A. Boston College against Tufts and New Hampshire State will face Agassiz.

The program consists of twenty-two events, and the relay races should be a big feature. The game start with the 40-yard dash for men is the service. It will be the first time the Arthur, Ken Memorial trophy will be offered for competition.
